The British Columbia Retired Teachers' Association

WORKING FOR YOU,
WORKING WITH YOU.

The BCRTA is an organization that guards the interests and promotes the welfare of retired educators throughout BC.

Joining the BCRTA was an easy decision, like ABC:

- A - an association where members are proud to be called "teacher"
- B - becoming part of an organization that values their chosen profession
- C - colleagues united in ensuring input into pension plan issues

Kathy Frederici, Retired Teacher

The BCRTA gave me a tool — "There Is More To It Than Money" Workshop — that enables me to continue working with my colleagues as they prepare for their retirement.

Dennis Anderson, Retired Post Secondary Educator

The BCRTA gave me the tools I needed to build something new out of my career in teaching. I enjoy my line of work and now live a life full of experiences that continue to grow from it.

Ross Stephanson, Teacher
Performing Arts now Actor, Acting Coach and Set Designer

I love my new life, and the BCRTA is a great way to connect with people of like age and interests, to share adventures. Since retiring I've climbed many mountains and cycled many kilometres.

Sherrin Perrouault, Retired Teacher

The services provided to members of the BCRTA are determined by our membership. The BCRTA is independent of the Teachers' Pension Board of Trustees and the College Pension Board of Trustees.
